

THE TINY BOOK
OF STEREOTYPES

There is a well known Romanian stereotype

And everybody takes it as a fact -

That this is the land of Dracula count

9

There is a well known Polish saying

Which goes through the years like a stereotype

"The way to a human is by the stomach "

So, being a human depends on... your sack?

7

There is a well known Austrian habit

Which is done by everyone and not just a bit.

Austrians do it with no fear at all

Cause smoking is a pleasure without control.

1

There is less known about Latvian people,
But they are said to be fish-eater.
And do you know they hide a se'creeet?
It's something wrong with their feet...

6

There is this known Italian phrase
Which is a neverending craze,
You tell it when you're right, or wrong
Cause "Mamma mia" is the word!

5

There is a Portuguese cultural stereotype
That all these people take an afternoon nap,
That they are basicly nostalgic and spread the Fado as a magic.

8

*There is this Hungarian delicious dish -
Just close your eyes and make a wish
And you'll be served a goulash course
Eaten with paprika, of course...*

4

*There are these well known Greek stereotypes
That Greeks are loud and most proud, the cradle of humanity, so very, very care free!*

*There is this amazing Basque stereotype
Which tells that four plus three is one
And rain is never, never done - a light and misty txirimiri... but is it really?*
